

Frankfort acts to upgrade street requirements

FRANKFORT — A petition seeking approval of an amendment to the ordinance setting forth specifications for constructing streets in subdivisions has been addressed to the Plan Commission for recommendation.

The petitioner is the village of Frankfort and the change sought is in the type of surfacing for roadways, changed from A-3 to 1-11.

An A-3 street is one which is surfaced with three coats of oil and chips. In 1 class streets the surface is blacktop, sometimes referred to as bituminous concrete, and of a certain designated thickness.

According to the petition drafted by Village Attorney August J. Santoro, if the plan commission approves it and the village board adopts the amended ordinance the streets in new subdivisions will meet the specifications set up by the state highway department.

They will have an inch and a half of blacktop on top of an inch and a half of stone or accepted base material.

The A-3 surface covered an eight inch base of stone. In building streets there are materials that can be used so the street is ready for use as soon as the work is finished.

Some communities prefer to put in a stone and gravel base and let it stand through the winter and apply the surface in the late spring or early summer, according to John Djerf, of the Robert E. Hamilton engineering firm which serves the village of Frankfort.

Santoro also presented the board with a petition for annexation which was adopted. The parcel of real estate annexed is a tract 300 feet square on the west side of U.S. 455, 200 feet south of Colorado Avenue.

It is owned by Joseph Poliska and John Glowicki and according to information given the village attorney is to be the site for a restaurant and cocktail lounge.

A dining and drinking addition to the motel at U.S. 30 and U.S. 45 is scheduled to be built, but work has not been started.

The Penn-Central and the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroads are asking the village to rescind parts of its strip annexation ordinance which took in the right-of-way of board railroads between Owens Road and Ridgeland Avenue. The railroads have indicted they plan litigation if the village does not comply with their requests. Board members took no action on de-annexing the roads right-of-ways.

Santoro reviewed the decisions reached by the zoning board of appeals and the village board followed the zoning board's recommendation in each case.

One of these was denial of a business classification for the property at 120 Oak Street, where Robert Novak wanted to start a florist shop. The council also upheld the zoning board in granting a business classification and variations for the property at White Street and McDonald Lane sought by Charles P. Bruti. The variation permits the user to limit the first 12 feet of the 25 feet of parkway to grass instead of devoting the entire 25-foot strip to greenery before parking is allowed.

The zoning board also granted a variation of the requirement for rear yard space, permitting a smaller area.

The other case, covering erection of multifamily dwelling on Railroad Street, was continued. Santoro said the continuation was granted at the request of the petitioner, Joseph Kupina. Kupina plans a new petition for multiple swellings on four lots, each lot being one acre.

Kupina was asking for eight unit buildings in his original petition. Now he plans to file a new petition, Santoro said, asking a much higher density of population.

County board vote

Next Tuesday is another election day. On April 4 voters of Will County will elect a county board to supplant the board of supervisors as the legislative body of the county.

Under the former system the board that ran the county was made up of the supervisors and assistant supervisors in the townships. Members of the new board will be county officials.

Format of the board, however, was set up by the board of supervisors according to law. They could have decided on a smaller board but elected to make the number 27, with three to be elected in each of the nine districts in which the county had been divided on a one-man-vote basis as laid down by the U.S. Supreme Court for legislative bodies.

Frankfort, New Lenox and Homer townships comprise District 2. At party caucuses held some weeks ago the Republicans and the Democrats each nominated three candidates.

The polling places will be the same as those used in the primary election last week. The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Paper ballots will be used because the machines used in the primary must be maintained as they were at the closing of the primary voting, for a certain period of time.

The judges of election will take their ballots to the office of County Clerk Clara Hartley Woodard at the courthouse in Joliet as soon as they complete their counts.

For the information of the voters the HERALD of Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox, reproduces here the answers of the District 2 candidates to 10 questions:

- 1.-Name of Candidate.
- 2.-Address?
- 3.-Educational background.
- 4.-Occupation?
- 5.-Experience in county government or other governmental activity?
- 6.-Other experience?
- 7.-Why do you want to be on the county board?
- 8.-What are the most important problems facing your county today? How would you solve them?
- 9.-What do you see as the county board's role in planning for Will County's future development?
- 10.-Are you satisfied with the present procedure for future development in Will County? If not, what are your suggestions for improvement?

The Republican candidates in this district are: John Oster, New Lenox; Glenn P. Coburn, Frankfort, and Jerome J. Pad-dock, Homer. Democrat candidates are: Victor A. Tinley, New Lenox; Wilbur L. Schalk, Mokena, and Betty V. Perino, Homer.

Here are their answers:

John Oster, who resides at 840 N. Cooper St., New Lenox, and presently executive director of Trinity School for Exceptional Children, has a master of arts degree from the University of Illinois where he majored in education and has a bachelor of arts degree from McKendree College as a history major.

He has served approximately six years as an assistant supervisor on the county board. He has spent 31 years in public school work, 13 as a teacher, 18 as a superintendent, plus two years in his present employment in the field of mental retardation.

Oster said he wished to serve on the Kathy Donnelly, 5, has been able to read the language of the blind for some time and now, thanks to the Frankfort Lions Club she can write it. The Lions gave Kathy a Perkins Braille, which is about the size of a portable typewriter but instead of letters it makes raised dots that the blind read as fast as their fingertips travel over the surface of the paper. The presentation was made by Leonard Gromnicki, president of the Frankfort Lions Club.

Kathy writes with dots

FRANKFORT — The Frankfort Lions club at its dinner meeting last week in the Wagon Wheel restaurant presented a braille writing machine to a five-year-old youngster who has been blind since birth.

Recipient of the gift is Kathy Donnelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Donnelly, Colorado Avenue. The presentation was made by Leonard Gromnicki, Lions Club president.

Kathy, who reads braille, can now write it, thanks to the gift of the Frankfort Lions. She starts school in September and this braille writer will enable her to make notes of things she wishes to keep for study. It also will permit her to correspond with other similarly handicapped.

Kathy is an alert, happy youngster and adapts so quickly to surroundings that one does not think of her lack of vision. In familiar scenes she moves about freely and with as much assurance as one who has sight.

Last fall Kathy's picture was carried in the metropolitan papers, showing her chatting with President Nixon when he was in Chicago.

The machine given Kathy is known as a Perkins Braille. It is slightly smaller type than a portable typewriter and works similar to a typewriter except that it makes dots instead of letters. The dots are indented on the paper placed in the machine and no special paper appears to be needed.

Kathy knew about the machine and its operation and after it had been presented to her she promptly demonstrated it to the donors, but that was after she had a second helping of ice cream.

Architect's mission; solve space problem

FRANKFORT — At its recent meeting the Frankfort village board authorized Trustee Richard Trevathan to retain the services of architect Gene Tullio to help it solve its problem of expanding its facilities.

Growth of the village has caused need of larger quarters. The offices in the village hall are overcrowded. The village purchased a building that is diagonally across the street from the present village hall.

There is space at the west end of the village hall which was formerly used by the fire department, that may be converted into a council chamber, and the present council chambers made into offices.

The village board is looking for ideas and hopes an architect will have some to offer. Whether it should divide the program into two sections or make it one project is one question for the board to decide.

There have been several suggestions made about developing the building at the southwest corner of Kansas and Hickory streets. Trustee Doanld Stupp, who is police commissioner, proposed that the rear portion of the building be given over to the police for indoor firing range, study, meeting and storage rooms.

The library would also like to have the board give consideration to providing space on a ground level for its activities. Mayor Glenn Warning said that he believed the library district would eventually put up its own building, designed specifically for library purposes.

The Public Water Commission, serving seven communities with plans to tap the Kankakee River or some other stable source of supply to meet the water needs of the area, has its headquarters in the village hall, in what was formerly the police chief's office. The office space that was originally allotted to the mayor has long since become a part of the clerk's office. The police occupy what was formerly the kitchen. The maintenance superintendent and building inspector have some desk room and sometimes chairs.

As one observer said, "stating that the village hall is overcrowded is not an exaggeration."

Trucks, snowplows and other street and sewer equipment is now stored in the recently acquired building, leaving the space at the west end of the hall empty.

Lincoln-Way to increase pay

NEW LENOX — A pay increase of 5.5 percent was authorized for members of the Lincoln-Way High School faculty at the regular meeting of the board last week. This salary change is effective for the 1972-73 school year.

This will raise the basic salary of those with bachelor degrees and no experience from $8,350 to $8,800. For bachelors with plus 15 hours experience the change will be from $8,550 to $9,025.

Those with master degrees will get $9,475, up from $8,975; for a master with 15 hours plus the new rate will be $9,750, up from $9,250, and for a master with 30 hours the new rate will be $10,050, up from $9,525.

Village studies projects

FRANKFORT — Work on street repairs at Frankfort is expected to get started about mid-April, Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen, street commissioner told the village board at a recent meeting.

The date, April 16, has been set by Mayor Glenn Warning for the annual sewer inspection, in which all village board members will participate.

Trustee Donald Stupp announced that Police Chief T. A. Massey will supervise a bicycle rodeo and safety event when the weather becomes more stable, probably the latter part of April or early May.

The village is making do with the tank above the well on the village hall lot on Kansas Street. Extensive repairs have been made on the tank and Djerf said that the village will have to replace it some day and add a third well.

The third well may be located in the northern section of the community.

Djerf stressed that the new well and tank mentioned in Hamilton's report were immediate needs. On days when there is peak demand for water, the demand has been greater than the production and a heavy draw made from the storage, Djerf said.

Next on the list, Djerf said, after the well and tank; are some recommendations for improvements in the distribution system. One such recommendation is for installation of an eight-inch main along U.S. 30 from Elm Street, east to about the west end of the Big Farmer Magazine property.

There is some four-inch pipe in the older section of town that should be supplanted by larger mains, Djerf said. A four-inch main is fine for providing homes with an ample water supply but in case of fire are of little use.

The plans call for a 10-inch main to replace the four-inch on Ash Street between Kansas and Nebraska streets; an eight-inch main for the four-inch along White Street between U.S. 30 and a short distance north of the point of the triangle formed by White and U.S. 45.

The estimated cost of this last suggestion is $11,000; estimate for the 10-inch line on Ash Street was approximately $6,000 and the estimated cost for the eight-inch on U.S. 30 is given at about $8,000.

There is also another recommended improvement, an eight-inch main to supplant a four-inch on Oregon Street between Ash and Maple streets for an estimated cost of $25,000.

The estimated cost of the entire package is $215,000.

While on the subject of water, the board discussed possible extension of mains to include industrial sites off Center Road.

The general consensus of the board was to inform the property owners that the fee for providing water probably would be $750 an acre, which some persons considered a bargain when the cost to drill and put a well in and service would be $4,000. A person with a five-acre plot would probably be better off to pay the $750 an acre fee. However, this phase is still in the talking stage and no decision was reached last week.

Frankfort requires well, tank

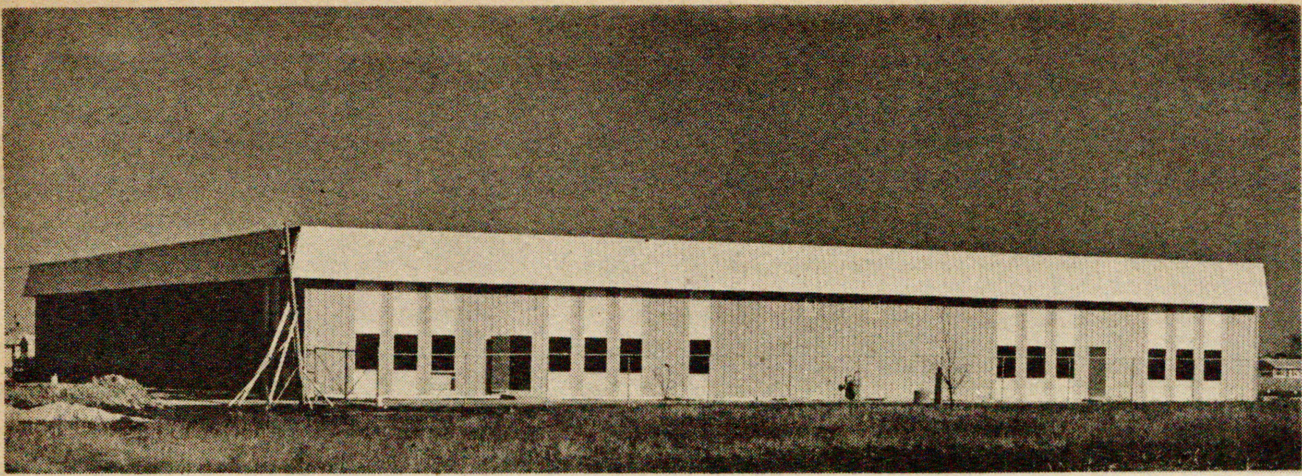

FRANKFORT — Another well and water storage tank are the two prime needs in the Frankfort water system at this time, according to the report of Village Engineer Robert E. Hamilton as presented by one of his associates, John Djerf at the recent meeting of the village board.

Djerf suggested that the new well should be located at the south end of the village, off Center Road. The proposed 300,000 gallon storage tank, an elevated type, would be located near the well.

The village board is working on the preparation of its 1972-73 budget so the en-

Illinois Bell has scheduled the opening of their new work center (Westhaven) for April 3. The 190 X 144 foot building will house 43 employees and 36 vehicles.

Five to run in Dist. 140

TINLEY PARK — School District 140 will hold board elections April 4. Following are personal resumes from the five candidates.

JOHN NOVOSEL

"I live with my wife, Beverly and two children, both preschoolers, in District 140 during the past year. I am a candidate for the 1-year vacancy on the school board.

"For the past 10 years I have been working as a teacher and presently am teaching math at Southwest Junior College. I hold a Bachelors Degree in Education and will receive my Doctors degree in math from Illinois Institute of Technology in May. I would like very much to represent you on the Board of Education. I, too, realize the many problems facing our district and because of my experience, I feel I could add to the board.

Having youngsters that will just be entering our school system, I would like to be part of it so as to guarantee them a good quality education. I would dedicate myself to working as a team with the other board members and attempt to solve both the present and future problems of the district. Thank you."

Novosel lives at 7417 W. 163rd St.

DONALD LORING

"My name is Don Loring and I am a candidate for the Board of Education, District 140, 3 year term.

I have lived in the district for 12 years. We have five children who are or will be attending our schools. I have previously served 3 years on our school board from 1967 thru 1969. In addition, I have worked as a Cub Scout Leader, Little League Manager, Park Commissioner, Adviser on the Tinley Park Long Range Planning Commission. My wife, Alice, is also involved in our district as a 4th grade teacher, President of the PTA and Neighborhood Cookie Chairman for the Girl Scouts.

"I am a high school graduate, hold a Business Degree from Midwest College, Pueblo, Colorado and have completed a Traffic Management Course at the College of Advanced Traffic, Chicago. I soon will be attending classes which upon completion will allow me to practice law before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"I am presently employed as Assistant Traffic Manager at Campbell Soup Co. My reasons for seeking the position of school board member are many. I am vitally interested in the education of our children, realizing that primary education is the first stepping stone towards becoming an educated productive adult. Because of our rapid growth, we are experiencing overcrowding in our schools which could affect the quality of education which is now being provided to our children.

"School board members must face this challenge and solve them by working together as a solid unit with the community, faculty and administration of our district. I feel that by combining people on the board with past experience in our district and new residents with fresh ideas, we can move forward April 4th to provide the quality of education our children deserve. I promise to dedicate myself over the next three years to working together with everyone in the district towards providing a better education for our children.

Loring lives at 7233 W. 168th Pl.

EVA MEAGHER

"A five year resident of Tinley Heights, I have four children in District 140 schools, one in Kirby and three in Tinley Heights School. Being an active member of the PTA, I hold a position on the board as Census Chairman. I am also a room mother, and reporter, co-publisher and distributor of the 'Communique'. In the past, I was active in Scouts and Little League.

"My interest in District 140 Board of Education started four and a half years ago, when I began attending meetings. Since then, I have attended the majority of the meetings and this interest has grown to the point that I now ask the voters of this district to elect me to the Board of Education.

"Our greatest responsibility to the children of District 140 is to provide them with the best education we can give. I believe that we can do this and still keep taxes within reason.

"Honestly, compromise and unity are key words for District 140's future. The board of education must work together among themselves and with the district to promote good education for our children. I would devote my greatest effort to unite a board and district to work toward giving our children the best education we can provide without going broke, in the meantime. If the board informs the district of its educational needs and keeps them aware of its problems, the district and board can then work together to solve these problems.

"I am willing to devote my greatest effort toward achieving these goals and ask for your support."

Mrs. Meagher lives at 7354 Dorothy Ln.

JOHN MACHALA

"My name is John Machala and I've lived in our school district 12 years, watching it change and grow. My children have attended Districts 140 and 230 and I have taken a special interest in their schools.

"I am a member of the District 230 Citizens' Advisory Council, concerned with all phases of education and education and operation of Sandburg and Stagg High Schools.

"I am also a member of the recently formed District 140 Citizens' advisory committee and have been working actively to inform residents of the facts concerning the vital bond-issue and referendum to be voted on April 4.

"I have investigated alternatives to our referendum and bond-issue, such as the 45-15 plan, half-day sessions and the use of mobile units and long ago became a firm advocate of the need to pass this referendum.

To further the spirit of cooperation that will be needed, I would like to see the establishment of two more committees in addition to the 140 Citizens Advisory Committee. These two committees would be composed of teachers, selected by the faculty and a committee composed of supportive services personnel, such as secretaries, bus drivers and custodians.

"I would like to see all three committees act in a regular advisory capacity to the Board of Education, for these are people who are able to give first hand information on how effectively our plans are working. In addition, they may be able to spot potential problems and bring them to the board's attention before serious results occur.

"My own education includes Morton High School and the Beverly Business College."

Machala, who lives at 16921 88th ave., is going for a three-year seat.

WAYNE RATH

Wayne Rath, 7442 W. 163rd pl., has lived in the district four years with his wife and daughter.

Rath is an administrator at Chicago

State University. He has a bachelor's degree from the Illinois Institute of Technology and is presently completing requirements for a masters degree there.

He is opposed to half-day sessions and is working for the April 4 referendum.

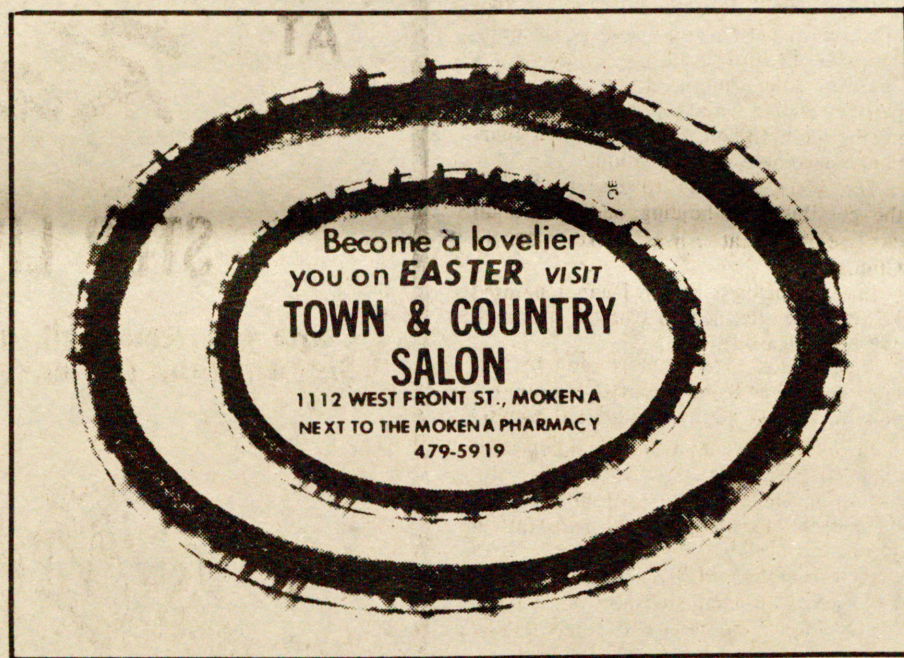

Rath feels he can effectively and objectively represent the residents of District 140 with an open mind and an ear for suggestion and criticism. He also says he wishes to get the most out of the tax dollar and yet provide a good, rounded education for the children.

Westhaven wins objection right

WESTHAVEN — Westhaven won the right to appear as an objector to the Fernway residents' petition for annexation to Orland Park. Leonard Carriere, attorney for the residents had filed a motion before Judge Harry Comerford objecting to the right of Westhaven to appear.

On March 23 the judge heard arguments from Ronald Glink, attorney for Westhaven. Comerford decided in favor of Westhaven saying the village did have standing and was an interested "person."

The case is now continued until April 21 for hearing the actual arguments of the Westhaven objection.

However, the judge indicated his schedule is such that the April date may not materialize. Judge Comerford has jurisdiction over cases that develop as an outcome of the recent elections. He indicated that in the one day following the primary election he had received twice the usual number of election cases.

Trustees extend tavern hours

OAK FOREST — An amendment to the liquor license ordinance was approved by a 4-2 vote of the Oak Forest Board of Trustees Monday with Trustees Leonard Neuzil and Dennis O'Connor voting no.

As approved the amendment provides those holding regular liquor licenses may remain open until 2 a.m. Monday through Friday and until 3 a.m. Saturday and Sunday morning. Late liquor license holders may remain open until 4 a.m. Monday through Friday and until 5 a.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Also approved were amendments to the police department ordinance as proposed by Police Chief Gerald Stevenson. These provide for adoption of the International Association of Chiefs of Police's recommendations concerning rank and number of fulltime personnel. They also place radio operators under the police and fire commission and rescind the residency requirements for police officers.

The Adema Camping Center at 155th Street and Cicero Avenue was given 30 days to conform to an agreement made in May, 1971, setting standards for the operation of the business on a conditional permitted use basis. Because of non-conformance the business has not been issued a license for this year and was served with a citation by the police department. Trustee Michael Giffin reported that Gingerwood homeowners have agreed to a proposal by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. which will result in rate changes for the subdivision as well as a change in exchange.

For several years residents have petitioned for a 687 exchange which is standard for the rest of Oak Forest. They have had the Tinley Park exchange as well as the Tinley Park calling area.

The phone company has offered a compromise measure which is an entirely different exchange. The board approved a proposal with one no vote by Trustee Tom North.

The plan is not expected to be implemented for at least 12 months.

Gallagher Asphalt Co. of Thornton was awarded a contract for the 1972 street resurfacing program at a cost of $142,620.28.

The approval and cooperation of the board and police department was offered to the Oak Forest, Tinley Park and Country Club Hills Jaycees for their planned Walk for Mental Health on Saturday, May 27. Funds contributed by sponsors of the walkers will be donated to the Crossroads section of the Tinley Park Mental Health Center.

Hillcrest dwellers complain

ORLAND PARK — Problems affecting people owning apartment buildings built by Hillcrest Builders took a good deal of the time at the Village board meeting Monday, March 27. About 12 owners were present to express concern.

When asked why certificates of occupancy have not been issued to apartment owners at 152nd Street and El Cameno Real Drive, Village President Melvin Dooan said they are issued when the builder requests final inspection. This has never been requested. The board plans to meet with Hillcrest and the apartment owners on April 4 to discuss this and other matters.

Other owners questioned where the responsibility lay in policing traffic and erecting street and regulatory signs in the Terrace Apartment area.

According to Village Attorney Raymond Pieper, this is a private area which the developer said was what the purchasers desired. As such it is the responsibility of the owners. The village has no police traffic control within it.

In the same vein, Trustee Robert Bib-eau said his committee is still working to upgrade the apartment dwelling building code. The committee is studying such things as fire proofing, sound proofing, parking, lighting, fire extinguishers, hallway lights, firewalls, etc.

Bibeu said, "I'm not picking on any particular subdivision," but the growth of Orland requires a stricter ordinance for new apartment buildings.

In another matter, the board accepted the letter of recommendation from the planning commission to halt all construction in Maycliff, Silver Garden Estates, until the problems and confusion are rectified. Board members met March 25, with the subdivider, Cliff Mehling. The plans were rejected subject to the study of committees.

The long-standing litigation over the Vander Ploeg subdivision at 145th Street and 82nd Avenue made no headway as Vander Ploeg's attorney, John Turner, made a futile plea to the board regarding the recent planning commission recommendation to reject Vander Ploeg's plan. Turner pointed out the plan was a compromise that he had understood was acceptable to the board.

The board said it wanted to see a finalized set of number plans. In addition, it objects to a cul de sac rather than a public through street in the area.

The question about what lot Hillcrest plans to build a 7-Eleven Food Store will be resolved by next Monday. The apparent plan of the builder to erect on the southeast corner of 151st Street and West Avenue does not appear to have board sanction.

Trustee Don Pekau received authority to get an estimate to erect a cyclone fence on a lot adjacent to the Norfolk and Western tracks, near 151st Street, and to construct it as soon as possible.

The official zoning map of the village was accepted.

The Zoning Board of Appeals will hear a request to rezone the property of the Church of the Nazarene, 143rd Street and Ravinia Avenue. This will make way for an ice cream specialty shop.

Police will enforce parking laws

TINLEY PARK — Police Chief Kenneth O'Brien announced this week that several complaints have been received from residents about parkway parking, overnight parking and parking too close to fire hydrants. Chief O'Brien said extra time will be devoted to clear up the problem, which is mostly found in residential areas.

The village parking ordinance states that it is unlawful to park overnight on the street from 2-5 a.m., or to park after a one inch snow fall. The village board recently passed an ordinance making it unlawful to park within 200 feet of an intersection.

The Chief said these violations can cause an inconvenience to the Public Works Department when checking water mains or shut offs.

Fines for these violations may range from a pre-paid $10 fine up to $500.

In case of an emergency, residents may obtain a 24 hour amnesty to park on the street by notifying the police department, 532-2438.

Chief O'Brien has requested that all residents cooperate and comply with the parking ordinances.

Commission lists industrial sites

TINLEY PARK — Prior to a report on a prospective industrial park for the village at Monday night's board meeting, Trustee Robert Mason praised chairman of the commercial and industrial commission Ed Gregory and all other members for time and effort spent voluntarily on research and study.

In his report, Gregory said there were three potential sites for an industrial park.

The first one, he explained, was south of the village near I-80 and Harlem ave.

The second one centered by the Panduit Corporation at 175th st. and Ridgeland ave.

The third, and according to the commission's report, the most advantageous in all fields, is bounded by the state hospital, Harlem ave. and the Sandalwood Industrial site and apartments.

Reasons given for the recommendation of the third site were the fact that there would be railroad spurs available for transportation, water and sewer facilities, already present buffer zones and revenue for the village, school district 140 and the high school.

Gregory stated that reports from Northern Illinois Gas and Commonwealth Edison had been included in the study to point out how, when and where a future industrial site should be located. Also, how to pursue industrial buildup within the village without infringing on already residential areas.

The three points first considered by the commission in their study were:

- (1) Does Tinley Park want industry?
- (2) What kind of industry?
- (3) Where should it be located?

Also brought to bear on the subject were important economic effects.

The chairman said that industry is not "knocking at our doors." However, if a site is available, there will be more incentive.

Trustee Richard Durkin asked Gregory if the commission would have decided on the third site if it were not to consider the economical advantages in village tax and assistance to the school district.

Gregory answered that this would not have affected their choice, as other advantages were also of importance, i.e., the railroad spur, the high plain level and the already existing buffer zone.

Trustee Pat Rea said he would like the opinion of the police and fire departments on the third site.

Mayor John Dunn said that all involved parties should make recommendations to the commission regarding their particular opinions on this location.

The board decided to discuss further the possibility of holding one of two all day seminars at Silver Lake Country Club.

In other business Mayor Dunn appointed Mike Haber to succeed Chester Marshall as Civil Defense Director.

—passed on a recommendation by Village Architect Robert Curtis for an expenditure of $1,875 for additional backfill sand for the new municipal building sidewalk and parking lot.

—discussed annexation of property on the northwest corner of 159th and Harlem ave.

Personnel from Illinois Bell Telephone will meet with interested parties on April 27 to inform the village of their service expansion plan.

Stickers being checked

TINLEY PARK — Police will be setting up roadblocks in various locations within the community to determine if residents are displaying vehicle stickers. The roadblocks are usually set up between 6-9 a.m. and since March 20, 32 citations have been issued to violators.

The cost for a sticker was $10 prior to Feb. 29. The cost is now $20 plus a minimum $10 fine.

Trucks must also display a tag, the price depends on the weight.

Police said they regret any inconvenience to residents, however, this is the only effective measure that can be taken to make the check for vehicle stickers.

League to hear land planner

Jim Claredge, professional planner and Moraine Community College and Illinois Institute of Technology faculty member, will speak on zoning and planning at a public meeting sponsored by the Palos-Orland League of Women voters, 8 p.m., March 29, Carl Sandburg High School.

The league is currently studying land use with the goal of taking an active part in encouraging laws and policies that regulate the orderly growth of the area.

"Just now we are faced with zoning decisions all around us in the Palos-Orland area," says Mrs. Anthony Zakaras, chairman of the study. "Should we fight garbage dumps, and now? Should we pull for planned developments, but insist that our officials demand certain requirements? Just how much power should there be locally to govern zoning?"

"These are some of the things leaguers all across the state are studying now and for the next year. All residents are welcome to come and learn along with us," she adds.

OAK FOREST — The village hall, 15601 S. Cicero Ave., will be closed for the Easter holidays beginning Friday, March 31, through Sunday, April 4.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

Thank you for your time and courtesy during our conversation regarding a HERALD editorial titled "To Mold a Child's Mind" which appeared in your March 1 issue.

After discussing the editorial with you for 15 or 20 minutes I told you that I would write to you in regard to that editorial.

Before I begin, I think I should state that I have no relatives, friends or even acquaintances on the school board of District 140 or the administration or teaching staffs of any schools in that district. Nor do I have any axes to grind with them. My qualifications for writing letters to editors are not extremely high either, although I did finish college. I would be the first to admit that was a number of years ago, and even then my major or my interests certainly were not in journalism.

I am, however, an interested resident of school District 140 with two children attending school in that district, one of them is on half day sessions. From what you told me you were not sure whether or not the unidentified woman member of your staff who wrote the editorial in question lives within the school district, but you were sure that she has no children attending school there.

I have signed my name at the bottom of this letter since I feel no need to hide behind the anonymity of the word "editorial" nor will I have someone else sign this letter for me as has been the case with some recent letters you have printed on the subject of school taxes.

The first two paragraphs of your editorial deal with a child allegedly telling her father he didn't like her if he voted against the school referendum. Upon questioning you about these paragraphs you told me that possibly they should not have been written to indicate any single proven instance, but rather that they were the result of a number of complaining phone calls which you received. When I ask you if that number was 100, 50, or 25 you told me "It was possibly six or eight, or maybe 10 over a period of time."

I have no argument with the third paragraph of the editorial since it is merely a statement of fact.

In the fourth paragraph you state that there is "Something rotten in the state of education," if what was said in the first two paragraphs was in fact true. Yet you had no provable instances (or at least none which you cared to divulge,) of anyone who had anything to do with school District 140 ever making the statements which you allude to in those first two paragraphs.

The fifth paragraph is hard to understand (because of a typographical error I believe) but, it mentioned the word propaganda. That is a rather harsh word and in itself has very often been used to propagandize the people. It is also rather ironic, since no communication medium in history has ever been used more effectively than the newspapers to disseminate propaganda through the use of half-truths, hearsay, insinuation and innuendo, which in my opinion this editorial is full of. So full in fact, that it really stretches the meaning and intent of the first amendment, which this sort of "writing" usually hides behind.

The sixth paragraph insinuates the misuse or misapplication or poor management of school funds. This may or may not be true, however, I submit that in any financial operation where an extremely large budget is present there will always be something at which someone can point an accusing finger and scream, "poor management."

The seventh and eighth paragraphs ask the question, who has the right to instill thoughts such as those outlined in the first two paragraphs in a child's mind, and then answers that question by saying, "no one has this right." I disagree, I think that I have the perfect right to instill in my child's mind the plain and simple fact that whoever would vote down referendums which might be helpful or beneficial to his complete education should not be counted among his friends.

The final paragraph is not really worthy of comment since it is so full of trite cliches.

I am sure that some people who read this letter might strongly suggest that if I feel as I do, I should move out of the school district. My answer is that of our not too distant neighbors has already moved, another closer neighbor is intending to do so and that I also intend to move as soon as it is feasible, hopefully before the start of the next school year. Apparently they feel as I do, that they do not want their children brought up in a community which can offer them, at best, only a second rate school system.

Dear Editor:

Let me first state, I want the best education for my children possible, and at the same time, looking out for the future of our community. Now let us look at the facts, not promises or predictions of what it should be in the future, but facts that can be verified. Perhaps the newcomers to our community are not yet aware of some of these.

Similar referendums have been defeated by the majority of people in January, April, September and December of 1971. The only difference in this referendum is a matter of $1.3 million dollars. In the referendums defeated in 1971, they were asking for a total of $1.8 million and said this would solve our problems, now, just a few months later; they are asking for a total of over $3.1 million dollars. That's right!!! If this referendum is passed, it adds up to over $3.1 million dollars!!! Why such a fantastic raise of over $1.3 million dollars in a couple of months? Looking at that, how soon will they need more money again?

Let's look at taxes, some of the new people may not be aware of. In 1969 total real estate taxes on my home in School District 140, with an assessed valuation of $7,095, were $835.56; in 1970 the taxes were $935.88, an increase of over 12 percent.

If the past holds true of a 12 percent raise in taxes per year, by 1976 my taxes would be over $1,650 a year. That would also mean an increase of over $58.00 per month on mortgage payments, for those who still have mortgages.

In December of 1971, school superintendent John Bannes said, the district had the third highest tax rate in the state and it had been number one for a long time. We hope we are not fighting for number 1 again.

Approximately 12 years or more ago, Kirby Grammar School District 140, was a small school, overcrowded, on half day sessions, but there were still children to come out of this school and become college graduates and professional people.

School District 140 will not receive one cent of taxes of any kind from the revenue of the Brentowne shopping mall, going up next to and around the K-Mart on 159th and Harlem.

In the beginning of March 1972, School District 140 still had a bonding power of $383,856.00. If this referendum is passed, it will not have any effect for next year as far as relieving any half day sessions, or the overcrowded conditions of the schools.

Some people in District 140 even had to spend their own money to bring to court a recount on a referendum in the latter part of 1971, to be proven by the court, that the referendum failed and did not pass as stated after a recount of some or all of the school board and/or voting judges.

Some states have already abolished the real estate taxes supporting their school systems. The State of Illinois is now looking into abolishing real estate taxes to support our school systems. Therefore, why vote for a proposal that extend us for 16 3/4 years from now.

What is the solution? Good question, because no one has come up with a complete answer yet. Some ideas maybe, instead of going into a large, long term proposal! Ask for only what we need now and look for help, such as we just got from Mr. Marras of Allied Builders, that was a land donation for a school site of a value in excess of $100,000.00. Press for more land and donations from builders, which our village hall has been doing and really pushing.

Our village hall is trying to help as much as possible, the state is checking into abolishing real estate taxes supporting school systems, we have a $383,856 bonding power now, our school districts assessed valuation is going up, so we will have more bonding power. If we end up with a bonding power of say $400,000.00 and could use this money for $100,000 life safety work at Kirby; if the money for this work is not already appropriated. There is $300,000 left to build a school that we need.

The money may not be enough for what we need, so put out a proposal of the remainder of it. Maybe, it will come out to needing another $300,000.00, this is better than a total three million dollar proposal. This would take care of our needs for a while and give some time to look and work for outside help.

I think this is mainly a working man's community and hope the only way is not by going back and digging deeper and deeper into his hard earned dollar.

It is for these reasons, I urge the voters of District 140 to vote NO on April 4th.

I was shocked to read your March 22 edition and to see what I consider a blind partisan attack on Congressman Ed Derwinski by local State Representative Leland Rayson in his letter to the editor column.

While we all respect legitimate difference in political opinions, Rayson's criticism of Derwinski was of the poisonous variety.

It would seem to me that you should establish a policy of printing only rational and coherent letters in your column, other than the extreme partisan views expressed by Rayson.

MRS. MARGE BRAUER
Orland Park

Editor:

In your (Fence Post) section you carried a letter from State Representative Rayson, which I believe was a very unfair attack on our Congressman Ed Derwinski.

However, despite obvious distortion of issues and extreme political statements, Rayson's letter contained one historical fact, namely, that Derwinski defeated him in a race for congress in 1958.

If Mr. Rayson feels so strongly about the record of Congressman Derwinski, he should have the fortitude to run for Congress again, instead of taking cheap shots in your column.

Mrs. Rayson seems far more interested in national rather than state issues, and his talents are apparently going to waste in Springfield.

KEN BREITZKE

Editor:

I was amazed by the manner in which you turned over your "Letters to the Editor" column to Leland Rayson in the Wednesday, March 22, edition.

Mr. Rayson's letter was more than just partisan, it displayed a personal animosity toward our Congressman unbecoming another public official.

Could it be that Mr. Rayson is still upset at losing the congressional race to Congressman Derwinski way back in 1958?

Vote 'yes' on bond issue

Voters in School District 140 have rejected more than a half-dozen referendums in the last three years. At the same time, the district has mushroomed in size; hundreds of young couples have bought their first home in the area. Many have been in economic straits and felt that any extra tax burden was unnecessary, if not impossible.

We can understand the economic plight of 140 residents. There is virtually no business or industry in the area and property taxes are inordinately high. But residents must remember that as 140 has had virtually no building program for several years, hundreds of new children have poured into the schools.

It is for this reason that the HERALD urges 140 voters to vote "YES" on both proposals next Tuesday.

The "present capacity" of the schools, with thirty-five students to a classroom, is listed at 1500 children. There are currently 1587 students in the schools. Next year, the starting enrollment is expected to be 1875 students; the ending enrollment is expected to be 2225 students.

Every available inch of space in the schools has already been utilized. Reading and special groups have to meet in custodial offices and storage rooms. Kindergarten classes have been put on triple shifts and the fourth and fifth grades are currently on half-days; next year all grades in the district will be put on half day schedules.

Educational experts have stated that for every year a child is on half-days, he will lose one month of education; over eight years, this amounts to almost a full school year.

And above this all looms the possibility that the district is only one-third developed.

The five-year plan proposed by the superintendent and board would get District 140 back on the right track. It would provide enough classrooms to absorb the projected growth of the district. And it would give the voter the most for his money since the second proposal involves an interest-free loan of more than $2 million that would save the district $672,480 in interest.

But in order for the five-year plan to work, both proposals must pass. District 140 must reach its bonding limit before the loan can be available. It is important that district residents understand that $1.2 million in bonds will not be sold at once and that $125,000 in rent money will not be paid immediately.

Passage of the proposals would, of course, raise taxes in the district. The greatest brunt of the bond program would be felt next year, when a house with an assessed valuation of $10,000 would have a tax increase of about $27. The greatest rent payment would come in 1974, when the tax bill on the same value house would have about a $55 increase. We do not feel that these costs are great enough to warrant the rejection of the referendum. To turn down these proposals would be to run the risk of turning District 140 into an educational ghost town.

It is unfortunate that school financing is so dependent on property values. District 140 is a perfect example of the fact that the present system is inadequate. There should be an alternate system of aid for districts lacking in business and industry, but plentiful in people.

Kite safety is important

Springtime's identified flying object, the kite, may appear harmless enough but it can be dangerous if a few simple rules of caution are not heeded.

Always use dry string, wood and paper in a kite — not wire or metal. Metallic fibers, tinsel or wire conduct electricity and should not be brought in contact with power lines.

Open spaces away from power lines, television aerials, airports, streets and highways are the only safe places to fly kites.

Never fly a kite in the rain, as wet string can also conduct electricity.

A kite should not be flown when the wind is freakish or changeable.

If a kite becomes snagged in a power line or high tree, leave it. Do not risk injury by climbing poles, towers or trees to retrieve it.

But until another system is devised or industry comes to 140, next Tuesday's referendum is the only alternative that can provide for a quality education.

For the sake of the children, vote "YES."

Abortion literature reaches a new low

The picture shows a dead five-month-old fetus in a hospital bucket. The features of the unborn child are just becoming recognizable; it is lying in its bloody placenta and umbilical cord. "These are the remains of an aborted baby awaiting disposal," reads the caption.

Several persons found this picture and some anti-abortion literature in their mailboxes last Monday, the day before the primary election. One was addressed to a 17-year-old girl. One page of the pamphlet was titled "Citizens for Richard F. Kelly, Jr."; the other page came from a group known as "Illinois Citizens Concerned for Life."

The pamphlet said that Kelly "is opposed to the curse of our age: 'Abortion.'" It attacked Rep. Leland Rayson for sponsoring abortion bills in the state assembly. The pamphlet said that Kelly was the "Pro-Life" candidate.

We called Kelly for more information on the leaflet. He said that "Illinois Citizens Concerned for Life" was in no way connected with his political organization; that distributing the pamphlet was done without his knowledge; that he did not know the man who signed a letter in the pamphlet. Kelly then asked if our concern over the pamphlet meant that we were pro-abortion.

Whether or not this paper is for or against abortion is unimportant. Abortion is too complex an issue to be decided by pictures of dead fetuses. It will not be decided by sending sick literature to girls too young to vote.

Mr. Kelly, whether he knows it or not, has got some supporters who resort to the lowest form of dirty politicking. Pictures of any dead thing, be it an aborted or miscarried fetus, slaughtered seals, or persons killed in war will always affect a decent person's sensibilities. And to imply that one candidate is pro-life is to imply that the other candidate is pro-death. Such gross oversimplifications have no place in a political campaign in our democratic society.

State highway project needs better planning

State highways in southwest Cook County are ugly.

Cicero Avenue, Oak Forest, is a precarious course of concrete and rubble separated by several feet of mud.

Harlem Avenue, Tinley Park, is an unlit horizontally-flattened monster.

Of course, the highways need improvement and additions to keep up with the accelerated growth of the suburbs.

Professional road building calls for plans and use of experienced minds. The way the state highway department builds and reconstructs roadways, it would seem that each foot of concrete was planned by a novice — especially when it comes to money and safety.

The state is presently laying drain tile along 159th Street, east of Oak Park Avenue.

Oak Forest and Tinley Park are negotiating with the city of Oak Lawn for Lake Michigan water. Hopefully, agreement will take place this year and water mains will be installed along 159th Street.

Inquiries from the TIMES HERALD have received assuring remarks from highway engineers stating that if the department is aware of the future water mains, allowances can be made for the installations during road construction.

A village engineer reportedly stated that the water mains will be in the right-of-way and should not interfere with the reconstruction.

Let us hope that after reconstruction the people in Bremen township will not see 159th Street torn up for placement of water mains.

On second thought

The hazards of pipe smoking

By Glenn Logan

If I were to sign this as "Holey Logan," someone might say, "there is a pious braggart who doesn't know how to spell," but my wife would understand. As a matter of fact she refers to me from time to time as "Holey Logan" when she notices a new hole in a shirt, sweater, or the trousers I happen to be wearing when a glowing flake of tobacco drops from my pipe.

The only thing I can say is that the fabrics on the market today aren't what they used to be. With wool or cotton one had a chance to brush off the spark before it penetrated but with dacron and the polyester one doesn't have a prayer. As soon as a spark touches — Poof! another hole.

The bigger the spark the bigger the hole. Brushing time may be a factor but not much. It appears that the holes are instant. There are pipes that come with hinged covers and there are covers one may buy that will keep sparks from flying.

But covers also interfere with the draw. Theoretically you are supposed to be able to re-light pipes with the cover in place but as far as yours truly is concerned that is purely theory. My attempts to re-light a pipe with the cover in place has never been successful.

With the hinged cover all one has to do is flip it up but there is one thing to remember about flipping a hinged cover or messing around with the kind you shove in at the top of the bowl — let it cool off a bit. Otherwise it is a case of burn your fingers or burn your shirt.

Look at skiers. They break legs and arms or bang themselves black and blue but they keep coming back for more because they like it. The fractures and the bruises are considered recreational hazards. So are the hazards of pipe smoking.

It seems to me that the shirtmakers, the sweater makers, the coat makers and the pants makers might put their chemists to work and in addition to fashioning fibers, add to their store of chemicals that now put permanent press into garments or waterproof the same. Maybe they can come up with some kind of fire proofing.

For many years they've had stuff that makes wood fire resistant. Some time back an enterprising match making company abroad was credited with buying up some old wooden barracks that had been treated with a fire resistant material and cut it up into match sticks which they topped with the stuff that makes fire when one scratches it on the material on the side of the box. The tops worked perfectly with a satisfactory burst of flame but that was all — the wood wouldn't burn.

Christmas decorations and party decorations have been treated so they are fire resistant so it seems reasonable that the wonder fabric people could put something on their products so they don't burn so readily.

I suppose one could have a vest fashioned out of asbestos that would be impervious to a shower of pipe embers but such a garment probably would be too warm or too difficult to maintain.

It is possible that some genius will come along with a pipe someday that will not release sparks. That would take care of things nicely. One of my co-workers to whom I had been voicing complaints about burning bits of tobacco putting holes in my clothes asked why I just didn't quit smoking a pipe.

Here I was, seeking some crumb of comfort and what do I get but a silly question — why don't I quit smoking a pipe.

Well, I have the answer to that — I smoke a pipe because I like to smoke a pipe, and let the ashes fall where they may.

Police Beat

New homes vandalized

Tinley Park

March 18 — Two persons were injured in a four car accident at 171st Street and Harlem Avenue. The injured passengers were Joyce Ann Cusack, 8636 W. 143rd Pl., Orland Park, who suffered a cut head and sore neck. Debra Ann Kormanik, 8710 W. 170th Pl., Tinley Park, suffered a cut head, sore elbow and swollen left eye.

The accident occurred when Janet Oostema, 15301 S. Oak Road, Oak Forest, was travelling north on Harlem Avenue, struck a car driven by Diane Peter, 12103 S. 74th Ave., Palos Heights, who was driving east on 171st Street crossing Harlem.

Palm Sunday marks debut for pipe organ

ORLAND PARK — Palm Sunday "Hosannahs" rang out with special meaning as the newly installed pipe organ of St. Michael Church was first played publicly.

The $30,000 pipe organ was especially designed for the modern construction of the grey brick and stone church at 143rd Street and Highland Avenue. An instrument of 15 ranks or sets of pipes it can produce approximately 1000 individual notes from a like number of pipes. Although using electric power the tones are natural and not synthetically produced.

According to Kenneth Steinbacher, organist and choir director who contributed to the design of the organ, it has one of the finest tonal qualities he has ever heard.

The organ's expected life span is 75-100 years making its cost very reasonable. A good electric organ has a life span of about 20 years and costs between $12-15 thousand.

The installation of the organ, which was manufactured by the Wicks Organ Company of Highland, Illinois, brings to completion the church building which was begun during the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the parish in the Orland area. St. Michael Church moved from its buildings at 151st & Will-Cook Road where it had been established in 1868 to its present site in 1924.

The money for the organ was contributed by parishioners who were individually contacted, and who pledged the necessary amount over and above their regular contributions.

Serving on the Committee for the New Pipe Organ Fund were Frank Butler, Thomas Finucane, Agust Knez, James Lawler, George Paetow, Robert Ready, Kenneth Steinbacher and Robert Walsh.

Steinbacher played and conducted the 100 member children's choir at the 9:15 a.m. Mass on Palm Sunday. The organ will be played at all regular services in the future.

Pamphlets tell the story of Tinley government

By Jean Wille

TINLEY PARK — Although village government pamphlets, available at the village hall, 6825 W. 173rd Pl., are mainly for new residents, they might also be helpful for a review by old timers.

The pamphlet states that we have a "village form of government with a village president and six trustees elected to four year terms. From this springs our Police, Fire and Public Works Departments with a trustee assigned to each. Other trustees are charged with the responsibility of running areas such as finance, building and community relations."

Trustees heading up various committees are, Richard Durkin, Sanitation (presently working on negotiations with Oak Lawn for Lake Michigan water), Kenneth Fulton, Finance (revenue and expenditure), Merle Landau, Permits and License (building department), Robert Mason, Planning and Zoning (annexation, zoning and industrial growth), Carl Montecki, Public Ways (road, bridge, flood areas, road safety programs), Patrick Rea, Public Service (police, fire, consumer protection, civil defense).

All of the trustees serve on various committees thereby affording the public of continuity and a good check and balance method regarding all phases of village government.

There are also many residents serving voluntarily on the Long Range Plan Commission, the Zoning Board of Appeals, Industrial Commission, Youth Commission and Environmental Control Board.

The village clerk, Frank W. German Jr., is a former elected trustee recently appointed to fill the vacated clerk's position when Frank Jeffords retired.

An appointment can be made with any village board member through the clerk's office, 532-4745. The hours for the clerk's office are 9 - 3, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday; 9 - 1, Wednesday and Saturday; 7 - 9 Friday evenings.

Regular board meetings are held on the first four Mondays of each month at 8 p.m.

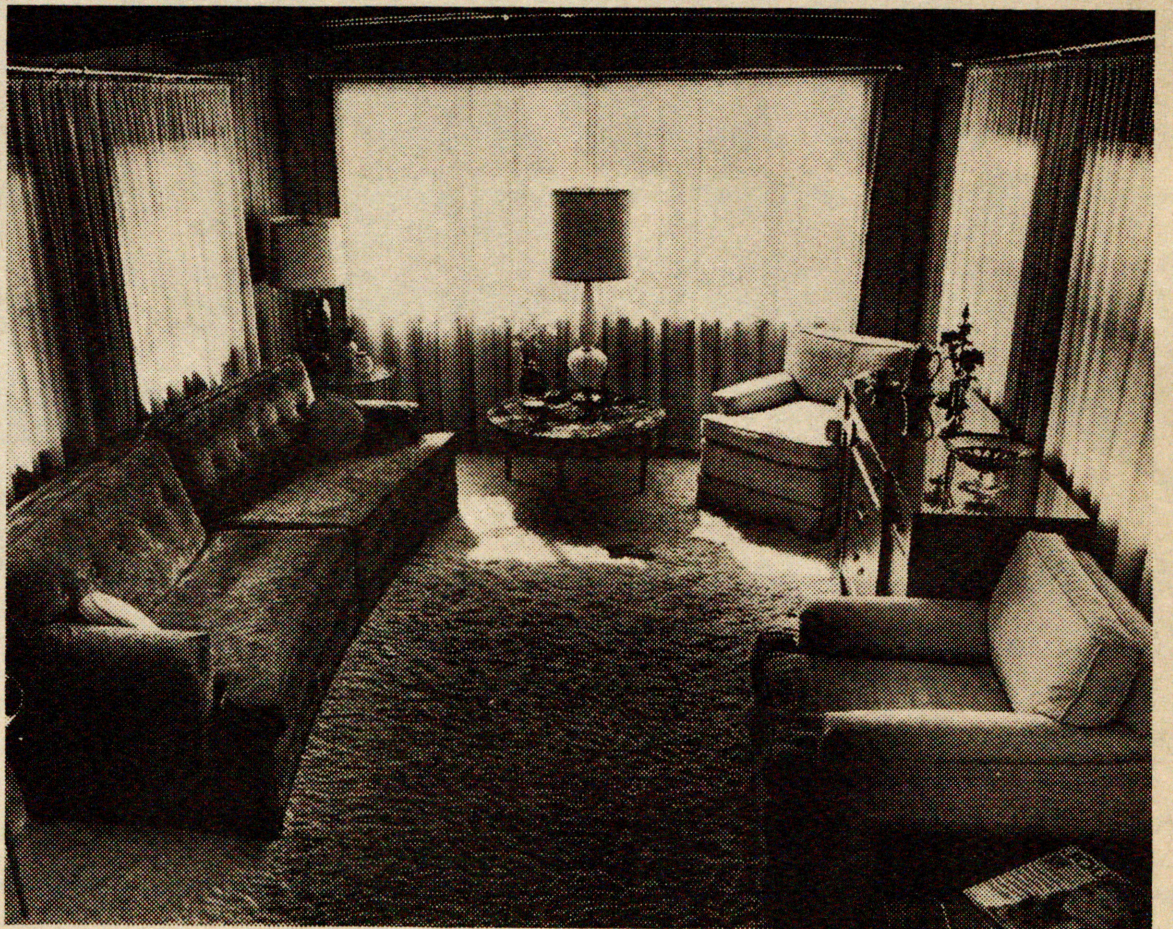

Police assistance may be secured at any time by calling 532-4304.

For fire protection, or inhalator equipment, residents are asked to call 532-1313.

A curfew ordinance requires that those persons under 17 years of age must not be on the streets after 10:30 p.m. except on Friday and Saturday and days before national holidays when the curfew is extended to 11:30 p.m.

Overnight parking between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m. and after a one inch snowfall is prohibited.

Siren signals are as follows: Fire, conventional off-on warning; inhalator squad, one steady blast lasting approximately a minute; tornado warning, one minute blast, one minute silence, one minute blast; Take Cover, a variable up and down blast.

All-electric living makes mobile homes completely modern.

A mobile home can't be completely modern when it has an unsightly storage tank, piping and chimney. Or the odors that come from combustion.

So more and more subdivision and individual mobile home owners are turning to all-electric living.

Electric heating is clean and quiet, and there's no flame to worry about. It's as safe as a light bulb.

And because all-electric mobile homes are better insulated, you have better year-round comfort. A modern way of life should have modern power. Mobile homes and electricity were made for each other.

A Thought To Remember BY BOB HIRSCH

Centuries ago, some grief stricken women walked toward a tomb with heavy hearts in what must have been the gray light of dawn. When the first streaks of the rising sun brightened the sky, they were unaware that this was a special dawn; the most glorious day in the history of the Christian world.

Resurrection creeds differ in language but all Christian people believe in the resurrection. As surely as sunrise follows sunset, Easter is the crowning evidence of resurrection. Without resurrection, religion of any type is a fallacy. Yet, terrified people continue to be confused about the meaning and purpose of the last and final heartbeat. This confusion is so needless when the evidence of Easter can and should give us confidence that the grave is not the end of life.

The certainty of resurrection should lighten all hearts when people say "Happy Easter". In that firm belief we say "Happy Easter" to you...

Faculty play first rate

By Ray Kubis

On recent Friday and Saturday nights, students, parents, and friends who attended the musical production "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," were delighted with side-splitting performances by the six Carl Sandburg Teachers turned actors. The Teachers' Association presentation filled the Sandburg Commons building Friday and Saturday night.

The musical is based on the comic strip "Peanuts," by Charles M. Schulz. It included two acts and fourteen scenes portraying a typical day in the life of Charlie Brown.

The six instructors did an excellent job of concealing any notions of stage-struck fear. William Lair neatly played Charlie Brown, the always losing, "Blah" schoolboy. The towel-hugging Linus was played by Neil Pomerence.

Frankfort police buy VASCAR device

FRANKFORT — Frankfort motorists who have a heavy foot may find a lighter touch could be more economical. At its recent meeting the village board followed the recommendation of Police Chief T.A. Massey and approved the purchase of a VASCAR unit. This is a computerized device that can measure speed in any direction. Regardless of whether a car is in front of a squad, behind it, or crossing its path at right angles, or any other angle, VASCAR can record its speed.

John Smith, of the Blue Island Police Equipment Co., from whom the machine was purchased, said that its findings are accepted as evidence in courts. According to Smith this equipment is a deterrent to speeding. Signs on streets or roads leading into a community apprising motorists that it is VASCAR served is usually effective in getting them to obey the speed signs.

In using radar the squad is parked and its antenna set. Clocking a car coming up from behind the antenna must be set. For a car going away the antenna must also be set. Radar will also catch a car at right angles if the antenna is set properly. Chief Massey said. The drawback is that the squad must be parked and the antenna set in the proper direction.

Motorists seeing a parked squad generally figure it is radar and govern themselves accordingly, and pay little heed to patrolling squads. With VASCAR in use that moving squad can time any car suspected of traveling too fast. Smith told the board.

Massey told the board that radar costs between $1,300 and $1,600. The cost of the VASCAR installed is $685 and there is also a charge of $30 for a stop watch, bringing the total cost to $1,000. Half of this will be paid by a state grant which already is approved and half will be paid by the Frankfort Police Association. The VASCAR apparatus, however, will be billed to the Village of Frankfort and becomes its property.

VASCAR was to be installed this week. There will be a two-week training period for officers who will operate it, upon completion of the training they will receive certificates.

Following the training period there will be a two week interval in which police will issue warning tickets to those motorists timed as going too fast by VASCAR.

Work starts on Green Garden links

FRANKFORT — A new daily fee, 18-hole golf course has been announced by Tom Walsh, a major stockholder in Westgate Country Club.

The course, to be known as Green Gardens, is to be located on a 250-acre tract near the intersection of the Monsee-Manhattan and Center roads south of Frankfort.

According to Walsh work on the course should start next week, weather permitting. He said it will be about a 6,300-yard layout, running north and south so there should be few sun holes.

He described the land as "slightly rolling." There are no trees, nor is there water but Walsh said his course builders will take care of those details.

Some ponds, or lakes as will be built, between 500 and 1,000 trees planted and sand traps and bunkers will be added.

Walsh said the greens will be planted with 0-15 bent, a grass that permits early and late season play. The greens are to average about 6,000 square feet in size.

Tom Walsh, whose brother Marty, recently sold Hickory Hills golf course, is quoted as saying they plan to continue their operations in Palos Heights for many years. Green Gardens, he added will be referred to as the "First Cousin of Westgate."

Tom Walsh plans to handle the architectural work for Green Gardens. He designed the original 18 at Westgate and the two additional nines built in 1959.

He hopes the Green Gardens course will be ready for play in June, 1973.

Township to combat strays

FRANKFORT — Glenn Coburn, supervisor of Frankfort Township, announced that the township has entered into a contract with Suburban K-9 Central, effective April 1, to combat the marked increase in stray and roaming dogs.

The township board decided that more time and effort will have to be expended now than in the past to enforce the provisions of its dog ordinance.

The new service will operate on a Monday through Saturday basis, 48 hours a week, Coburn said. Complaints should be placed directly with the dog warden by calling 312-349-7722, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. No attempts will be made to apprehend an animal after dark, it was said. If a homeowner is able to confine a stray in his yard or garage after service hours he can notify the warden and the dog will be picked up in the morning. Every effort will be made to locate the owners of loose dogs and inform them of the animal's whereabouts, Coburn said. The ordinance is to be strictly enforced, he said, and fines imposed on violators. Pets are not to run loose unless they are in an enclosed area.

Dogs taken out for walks must be on leash, according to the ordinance.

Owners of missing dogs may call the warden and describe the animal on the possibility it has been picked up. Many valuable pets have been recovered in this manner, it was said.

News Briefs

FRANKFORT — The Frankfort Volunteer Fire Department, operating out of the Frankfort Fire Protection District and covering a wide expanse of territory, rural and urban, responded to 112 calls last year, according to the annual report for 1971 issued by Fire Chief Bruce Wells.

The report shows there were 12 dwelling fires, three involving stores, and one in a restaurant. There were 10 automobile fires and two listed for garages. Beside the 10 passenger cars there were three trucks that had fires and one trailer was destroyed. Only one tractor fire was reported. The department responded to 11 rescue calls and answered nine mutual aid calls.

There were 34 grass fires, three brush fires and six rubbish fires that had to be extinguished. There were 10 false alarms. Total estimated loss by fire for the year was placed at $56,250.

The service will be held in a wooded area near the pond just west of the chapel. If the weather is inclement the service will be conducted in the chapel. Persons attending should bring something to sit on if the service is held outside. Coffee and rolls will be served after the service.

MOKENA — The Mokena Klic-Klacks 4-H Club met March 9 at the Immanuel Lutheran Church with one guest and 23 members present. The next meeting will be April 13 at the church.

Demonstrations were given by Tammy Sestak, creative stitchery; Carl Bachus, cooking; Pam Furtak, painting ceramics; and Kevin Bradley, oil painting on canvas.

After the meeting refreshments were served.

FRANKFORT — A sunrise celebration of Easter is to be held at 6:30 a.m. this Sunday at Camp Manitou, on Sauk Trail between Harlem Ave. and Frankfort.

Music will be provided by the Girls Trio-Gwen Santefort, Bonnie Housman and Janice Woltzen, from the First Reformed Church of South Holland; Fred and Karen DeVries, from the Green Oak Reformed Church, Oak Lawn, and a trumpet player, Don Shire, Joliet.

Will County Board vote April 4

board because as a former teacher of political science and as one interested in the proper execution of the democratic processes of government, his experience, and being in a semi-retired position he has the time and he believes the proper social consciousness to regard it as a civil responsibility to represent his neighbors.

The major problems confronting the county today, Oster said, are those arising from the great influx of population into the area, provision for better educational facilities, particularly in the vocational field. Acquisition of more open space to serve future and present recreational needs; to provide for more orderly growth; development of water resources; closer analysis of ecological problems; youth problems, particularly those associated with the drug cultures. Problems, he said, are more easily identified than solved.

Oster added that most of our solutions on the local as well as the national and international levels are arrived at on a political basis rather than sound sociological principles. The answer in many instances is not the common nostrum of spending more and more monies, but rather the development of more awareness of these problems by the public.

Oster said he is not satisfied with current procedures for future development in Will County.

There is too much delay and too little effort to obtain and utilize competent professional advice, he believes.

Committee assignments, he said, should be made on the basis of those areas of understanding in which board members are knowledgeable, instead of as rewards for supporting the leadership or because of tenure status on the board.

Glenn P. Coburn, who resides in the Lincoln Estates area of Frankfort Township, of which he is the supervisor, operates a real estate business. He has served on the board of supervisors for the past two and a half years and previous to that had been a township auditor, and was a grade school board member for six years, and in recent months formed the Frankfort Township Plan Commission of which he is chairman.

Coburn is a commissioner on the Will County Forest Preserve District and a member of the highway, legislative and agriculture committees of the county board.

He seeks election to the new county board, Coburn said, because he believes he has a good understanding in many areas of county government and would like to expend his knowledge in the service of the people, not only in his district but for all the people of Will County.

"I also desire," Coburn said, "as do others, to set forth on a new and progressive course. The most important problems confronting us as I see it are rapid growth; inadequate planning; sewer and water; police protection; welfare and open space.

One of the biggest problems is caused by the exodus from metropolitan Chicago and its congested, outlying sections. With this growth comes all the problems and the additional services required and in most cases handled through governmental departments not fully geared to handle the extra load.

"I am an advocate of everyone paying their own way. Developers of housing, regardless of size, should pre-pay for the services the inhabitants of the dwellings are going to get before they are subject to paying any taxes. The cost is added to the purchase price of the home and is borne solely by the owner. This will help taxing bodies until taxes are collected and distributed.

"It might be worthwhile for the county to investigate the possibility of forming a department of public works to cope with water and sewer problems.

"We must acquire many sites for open space and recreation throughout the county, purchasing quickly in areas where demands and needs will be the greatest. Foresight must be used to develop now in areas where population will increase in the next 15 to 20 years. This way our facilities will be ready to accommodate and provide the enjoyment they should to people, and the necessary habitat for wildlife.

"I know of no way to solve such problems other than through the contact of people or organizations that are proven experts in such fields. With consultation, good judgment, and an earnest desire to make Will County a model county many of our problems would be erased."

Complete cooperation with cities and villages is seen by Coburn as the procedure to follow in developing uniform zoning requirements as a means of improving county planning.

And in connection with planning Coburn said he is far from satisfied with the present situation.

"This county cannot progress in an intelligent manner," Coburn said, "unless it develops an overall comprehensive plan. This should be accomplished through a completely revamped and expanded planning department."

Jerome J. Paddock, supervisor of Homer Township, who is serving on the county board and on the fees and salaries committee of the Forest Preserve District, has been a resident of the area all his life.

He is a graduate of Lockport Township High School and attended the United States Armed Forces Institute. For 20 years he was employed in the oil industry, much of the time as supervisor of stores. For 15 years he operated Paddock Equipment Co., and was an International Harvester dealer for farm, industrial and motor equipment business. He is currently president of the Bank of Lockport, a director of Green Insurance Co.

He would serve on the new county board, Paddock said, because he believes the experience of independent business men should be utilized at the county level of government.

"Fiscal responsibility and equitable taxation are most important problems confronting the county at this time," Paddock went on. "I would solve them by holding a tight rein on budgeting and spending and encourage others to do the same."

He sees coordination of overall planning in the county to prepare for the inevitable population influx as the proper role for the county board in the future development of the county.

"The planning procedures for the county should be so scheduled that they precede the growth pattern," Paddock stressed, "with sufficient lead time to provide for the orderly development of the county with respect to residential, commercial and industrial development."

The Democratic candidates also voiced opinions.

Wilbur L. Schalk, who resides at 11412 West 192d St., Mokena, is a graduate of grade and high school and had a four-year apprenticeship as a tool and die maker. He is self employed as owner of the Polishing and Buffing Supply Co. and also as a home appliance service technician. He has served as Democrat committeeman for his precinct for eight years.

"Will County," he said, "is one of the fastest growing counties in the state. The county board needs members, like myself, who are concerned that this be an orderly and planned growth." Schalk sees taxes, environment and development as major problems today.

"I am for fair and impartial assessments," he said, "tougher county ordinances to protect our environment and enacting a planned unit development ordinance for the entire county."

"It is imperative that the county board begin cooperating with other governing bodies, in particular municipalities and school districts, so that our county develops into a balanced community and not a hodge-podge of inconsistent zoning."

Schalk added that he believed a planned unit development ordinance is a must for the county.

"The county board should have procedures in force," he said, "that would force a developer to consult the nearest municipality and school district about his plan. He should further be required to pay his fair share of the new economic burden he has placed on the school district."

Victor A. Tinley resides at 153 Barbara, New Lenox, has had two years of college and is a salesman. He had had no active participation in government but has familiarized himself with its workings through study and reading material. He had three years service in the army in the Pacific.

He would like to serve on the county board, Tinley said, because he believes "new blood" should be introduced into county government.

"I feel that experience I have had in sales and in the building industry will be beneficial to a growing community," he said. Major problems as he sees them are housing for the aged through federal aid and by investigating other means and methods for obtaining funds.

He also would seek means to improve and, if possible, blacktop all county roads. He also believes work should be done to improve communications between youth and older people. He favors legislation beneficial to the people of Will County, and would make it a leader among Illinois counties.

Tinley said that he feels Will County is suffering growing pains and that "now is the time to prepare for the future and be alert for change, if and when necessary." The time to plan is before legislation is necessary, so when the time comes we will be ready for any circumstances.

Betty V. Perino, of Homer Township, resides on Crestview Drive and is Democratic committeewoman of the third precinct. She is also a housewife, mother and dog-groomer.

She has worked 25 years in bookkeeping, making payrolls, cost accounting, statistical and bank interest, and presently is a graduate and instructor in professional dog-grooming. Mrs. Perino said she would like to be a member of the county board because:

"I care, I believe the people and their community problems should be heard, considered and brought before the county board for deep and true appraisal. I intend to serve the people, consider their welfare and stability of their communities and help fight the battles that affect their pocketbooks."

Tax assessment procedures is one of the most important pieces of business for the board to take up, Mrs. Perino said.

"We must deeply study other areas surrounding Will County, use a good example and apply it to Will County. Help the farmer and the homeowner fight for lower assessments to 32 to 40 percent of assessed value and apply a higher percentage to industry and large businesses. It is successful elsewhere and should be tried here.

Mrs. Perino has this to say about the county board's role for the future development of Will County.

"To bring and explain the county board procedures in layman's terms to the taxpayer," she said. "Our taxpayers should be the deciding factor in all decisions pertaining to this county. Make people more aware of their taxing bodies so they can guide and control their spokesmen on the county board. I welcome this method."

As to the final question as to whether she is satisfied with present procedures for future development of the county, Mrs. Perino answered:

"No, not exactly, in fact far from it. Nothing can be planned and developed to the utmost without two-sided thinking. The board must first be brought back to the people through balanced representation."

Titans open diamond season vs. Kenwood

TINLEY PARK — The Tinley Park High School baseball team will swing into action for the first time in 1972, on Saturday April 1, by hosting Kenwood in a doubleheader. The first game will start at 10 a.m.

With eight lettermen, and a number of regulars back from last season coach Dale Delaney will be looking for improvement over a 14-14 record. Competing in summer league the Titans had a 5-9 record.

Delaney can go with a veteran and all-southeast conference selection at first with Ed Neal. Behind Neal is John Spivak, up from the sophs.

Tim Stone, another veteran regular returns for duty at second. Shortstop is a battle between two sophs, Bill Norberk, and Ed Marcotte.

Third base will be another inexperienced spot with John Holcomb, a junior, who is making his diamond debut this season the most likely candidate. Mike Kraft is another third base possibility, but Kraft will probably use his talents in the outfield and the pitchers mound leaving little time for third base duties. Kraft got in only three varsity contests last year because of arm trouble, and Delaney hopes the arm is sufficiently recovered for Kraft to pitch and start in center field.

Darryl Kimsey, up from the sophs will handle the catching chores with Vic Pignatello in reserve.

Jack Triezenberg the teams top pitcher last season, broke his arm last season, and won't be able to play this year. The injury forced Triezenberg to miss the entire football season, although he did the doctors go ahead to play basketball.

Delaney will call on John Beacham, and John O'Connell both up from the sophs for mound duty, along with Stone and Kraft, when he isn't in center.

Pignatello who earned all-conference honors last year will start in right for the Titans.

Left field has two strong candidates in Dave Schwandt, and John Stanley. Schwandt is a returning letterman. Stanley played baseball as a freshman, and then didn't play in 1971. Glen Jansen, a junior provides additional outfield strength.

more Stevel Nelson. Nicolai is a good hitter and Nelson is a top defensive catcher. The outfield corps consists of Bill Nelson a junior, in leftfield and another junior Al Barnett in centerfield.

John Miles, a returning all-conference choice, is battling it out with Mark Piekarz and Jim Harding for the rightfield spot. The pitchers are juniors Steve Rodeck, Jim King, John Carroll, and Joe Stratta. Tom Ormsby and Bill Edwards are the two senior hurlers. King and Rodeck, both left-handers, are considered top notch pitchers with potential by Mellen.

Bill Edwards, a converted outfielder, has a very strong arm and is coming along very well according to Mellen.

Ormsby and Stratta are transfers from Marist and Carroll is transfer from Fenger. "The team attitude is good and the boys work very hard," said Mellen. The Eagles had a 6-13 mark in summer league play and hope to improve that record. Oak Lawn, Reavis and Evergreen Park are very solid with Lincoln-Way and Homewood also rated highly.

The Eagles batted only .198. Too many question marks and untested players is Sandburg's problem mainly this year. The Eagles open up against Bloom in Chicago Heights April 3 at 4 p.m. The home opener is April 4 against Eisenhower of Blue Island at 4 p.m.

Handling the catching chores for Sandburg will be either Bill Nicolai or sopho-

Celtics sweep 3 games

NEW LENOX — Providence got its baseball season off to a fast start last weekend as it swept to three wins. Coach Tom Dedin's team made its 1972 debut in chilly climes Friday with an 8-4 win over Driscoll.

Saturday pitching was the name of the game as the Celtics took two from St. Francis de Sales, 3-0, and 2-1.

The Celtics, who usually play some of the best baseball in the area thus served notice on their opponents, and particularly their Private League foes that they will be a force to be reckoned with this season.

A Monday game with Joliet Central was snowed out, and weather permitting the Celts meet Joliet Catholic, tomorrow, March 29, at 4 p.m. at Joliet; and Thursday, March 30, host Joliet East, at 4 p.m.

Saturday pitchers Butch Markelz and Dan McGuire went the route in a couple of fine displays of mid season pitching form.

In the first game Markelz fired a one-hitter and struck out 14. McGuire, a senior lefthander, pitched a two hitter in the second game, walked no one, and didn't allow an earned run.

Mickey Ruettiger gave the Celts all the runs they needed to win in the first game when he singled home a pair of runs in a three run fifth.

Markelz opened the rally by singling with one out, and moved to second when Ed Olszta walked. Both runners advanced on an infield out, and scored on Ruettiger's hit. Ruettiger scored the final run of the inning on the front end of a double steal.

In the second game the score was tied 1-1 going into the fifth inning. Ken Caruthers opened with a single, stole second, and scored on a single by Rich Baranak, for the first Celt run.

Baranak hit a sacrifice fly in the fifth inning to give the Celts the winning run.

Rick Susner, turned in two fine stops at short and Joe Prieboy looked good at first.

The Driscoll game was called at the end of six innings because of darkness.

Providence jumped out to a 1-0 first inning lead on a hit batsman, two walks and an error. Driscoll came back with a pair of runs in the second and third innings to take a 4-1 lead.

Providence tied the game in the fourth. Prieboy and Ruettiger singled and Olszta walked to load the bases. Dick Mandella walked to force in a run, and a wild pitch brought in a second run. The tying run scored on an infield out.

The Celts scored the winning run in the fifth. Baranak singled and went to third on a scoring error when he scored on a sacrifice fly.

The Celts scored three times in the sixth on four walks, a hit batter and an error. Providence collected only three hits and Driscoll two.

Frank Forsythe the third Providence pitcher tossed the last two hitless innings for the win.

Knights eye SW title

NEW LENOX — Lincoln-Way could make a strong run for the 1972 Southwest Suburban baseball title this season. Coach Les Coats beginning his second season as varsity mentor has six regulars back from last years squad.

The Knights had an unimpressive spring season with an overall 6-14 mark, and 5-9 mark in 1971; but then seemed to jell in summer league play and ended up with a 16-8 summer showing.

Coats will use his veterans, most of whom played in summer ball plus some prospects who made their debut in summer play, to bid for the Knights first diamond title since 1969.

Heading the pitching corps will be Dave Webster, and Mike Hoffbach, Webster was only 3-1 in limited service on the varsity, but came on strong in the summer league posting a 6-2 record.

Hoffbach also provided some strong pitching in the summer with a 6-2 mark. Junior Bob Lindeman, who paced the sophs with an 8-4 mark, and also played on the championship Joliet Colt team moves up to the varsity. Lindeman had a 4-3 mark in summer play and his 1.01 ERA was the best of any pitcher.

Russ Jones is a lefthander who can really burn the ball past the opposition. Jones played summer and colt ball, and if he can learn to control his fast one better could move into the starting pitching rotation.

Also available for mound work is Cliff Toosley. Toosley missed the varsity season because of a back injury, but he did see some action during the summer.

Don Reinert, who was the teams regular catcher last year returns, and early work-outs indicate Reinert's arm is stronger than 1972. Catcher Gary McCune, who played last summer is a strong defensive performer.

Bill Roach, another regular moves from outfield to first. Roach led the teams in the RBI column in the summer. Behind Roach is junior Don Krohn, up from the sophs.

Veteran regular Jack Schilling gets first call as second, but Schilling has back problems that may keep him out of action. Kurt Rust, and Brian Fischer, both up from the sophs.

Blake Terkotte is back at shortstop, backed by Don Stuckey, and Terry Bunt.

Gary Stoneberger, last years regular first sacker moves over to the third. Stoneberger was the teams leading hitter last season. Roberto Morales will be making his diamond debut for the Knights as a back up to Stoneberger.

Steve Hicks, who wields a big bat moves from third base to a starting outfield spot. When he isn't pitching Webster will probably be in the outfield. Webster also swings a potent bat, and is not easily fooled as indicated by one strikeout in 71 at bats last year. Lindeman is also available for outfield duty along with Tom Wilson a junior, who played with the sophs in 1971.

Scott Mangan, who Coats says has the best throwing arm will probably get the first call in right field backed by Roy Broch, and Mickey Mitsner.

ORLAND PARK — In the annual student-faculty basketball games where both the girls and the boys play games against their coaches and teachers at Carl Sandburg High School last week the students notched one win in three games.

The Women teachers and coaches rallied to beat the girls 6-2 as defense dominated.

In the first game between the Men coaches and the students the youth pulled a stunning upset winning 22-14.

Senior letterman Tim Seagrave was the big scorer for the students. In the big game, the faculty bounced back to win 54-41. Huffing, puffing, gasping for every breath the teachers depended on the officials, (fellow teachers), a wire that deflected numerous student shots, and some old fashioned savvy to beat the student team.

Coach John Wilson, a high school all-state basketball player from Paris High School, was the big man for faculty.

Wilson showed he had not lost his high school form as he hit long jump shots, short lay-ins and many rebounds.

Art Crummie and Dave Lumley tallied 12 and 9 points for the students.

Some of the teachers and students who played in the game were: Coaches

Joe Devine, Dave Tomusula, Don Schultz, Tom Seliga, Paul Gilliland, Gene Kowert. Teacher Mike Johnson and students Brian Flanagan, Curt Aronson, Dennis Vincent, Mike Kettman, John Miles, and female star Robin Gieger, who scored the girls only basket.

TINLEY PARK — Vicki Shaw, (of Tinley Park), Lisa Dolan, Sharon O'Sullivan, and Sue Ahrendt swimming for Harvey Y set a new National Record for the 11-12 girls 200-yard free relay March 25 in winning the event in the Illinois State YMCA Championships with a time of 1:52.125. They won over a determined Peoria relay team that had a time of 1:53.904.

Vicki individually placed fifth in the 50-yard free style and eighth in the 100-yard free style. Lisa placed fifth in the 100-yard individual medley, Sharon placed eighth in the 50-yard butterfly, and Sue placed second in the 50-yard free style; their combined wins gave them third place overall in the state for 11-12 girls.

Rhonda Shaw swimming in the 9-10 girls 200-yard medley and free relays for the Harvey Y in the state championship placed respectively fifth and seventh.

Tinley swimmers second

TINLEY PARK — The Tinley Park Age Group Swimmers did battle in the Moraine Valley Conference Championship Meet held at Evergreen Park March 18. Tinley Park demonstrated that they were one of the powers of the conference, winning an overall second place trophy.

When the battle ended Hickory-Willow was first with 355 points, Tinley Park second with 333 points, Palos-Orland Swim Association third with 277.5 points, Hinsdale South fourth with 236, Riverside-Brookfield fifth with 223.5, Evergreen Park sixth with 212, and Thornridge seventh with 68 points.

Tinley Park swimmers won 20 first places, more than any other team but points were lost from a lack of depth. Next to Tinley Park in first place finishes were Hickory-Willow with 15 and Palos-Orland with eight.

Tinley Park swimmers winning individual events were Rhonda Shaw and Vicki Shaw in free style; Rhonda Shaw, Jeanne Blitvich, Joe Catalano, and Keith Nix in breaststroke; Vicki Shaw, Jeanne Blitvich, Paul Opalacz, and Keith Nix in individual medley; Gary Younger in backstroke; and Karen Walsh, Tony Milani, and Paul Opalacz in butterfly. The 11-12 girls 9-10 boys and 11-12 boys won both the medley and free relay races.

Golf, archery combine for fun

MARLEY — A first at Willow Run Country Club, located in Marley, 6 miles East of Joliet, had an exciting and different day on Sunday, March 19.

It was an archery golf tournament sponsored by the Tox-oph-i lites and the Chalk and Cue, Joliet.

Professional archers from all over the mid-west were participating. It was the first state invitational arch shoot ever held in Illinois.

It was handled as any golf tournament with the exception of bows and arrows in place of clubs and balls. Targets were set up in front and along side of the greens.

Anne Pettit, Professor at the University of Illinois with a score of 96 was the first in the ladies free style.

The mens free style event was won by Darrell Kinkin with a 75. Men Bare Bow was won by John Cline with a 73 and the womens Bare Bow was Dot Ewert with a score of 104. The above scores were based on 18 holes.

Pat and Neal Skvorc of Willow Run Country Club are going to welcome the archers back in October.
